MEMORANDUM FOR SEE DISTRIBUTION

SUBJECT: Fort Leonard Wood's Family Advocacy Program

1. REFERENCE: AR 608-18, Family Advocacy Program (FAP), 1 September 1995.
2. PURPOSE: To ensure that commanders comply with the Fort Leonard Wood Family Advocacy Program's (FAP) Child and Spouse Abuse Program.
3. POLICY:
 - a. Commanders will identify and refer individuals involved in child and spouse abuse to the Family Advocacy Case Review Committee (CRC) for mandatory evaluation, counseling, and referral assistance. Commanders will refer individuals to the CRC immediately following notification of an alleged offense, but not later than two working days after notification that an offense has occurred. The report point of contact for the CRC is Social Work Division (SWD) 596-1570. Any delay may place a victim at unnecessary risk. Commanders may flag individuals if permanent change of station or other actions would prove detrimental to progress in the case. Commanders will ensure their service members participate in all required counseling and therapy. Commanders will be present for all CRC meetings involving their service members. Commanders may send the unit first sergeant or sergeant major in the case of a schedule conflict. The SWD staff is responsible for notifying commanders of meeting dates and times.
 - b. Episodes of child and spouse abuse can provide the basis for disciplinary and administrative action. Commanders should consider CRC recommendations when taking disciplinary or administrative action against individuals in child and spouse abuse cases. No actions will be delayed while awaiting the receipt of CRC recommendations.
 - c. The FAP has the responsibility for ensuring that procedures exist to protect victims of abuse following the report of abuse and approving measures that will serve to protect abuse victims from further harm. Victims of domestic violence have the right to take reasonable actions to protect themselves and to be protected from abuse. The victim may contact the Victim Advocate Coordinator (VAC) at Army Community Service (ACS), FAP, 596-0212, for assistance.
